tripadvisor

Enjoy a nostalgic trip back in time at the Scottish Vintage Bus Museum. It's our 30th year at the extensive Lathalmond site and with a collection of buses, road and rail vehicles and public transport artefacts from all over the World, there's sure to be something that will bring back fond memories.

Exhibition Hall

The main display building hosts a selection of the Museum's bus and vintage vehicle collection.

Vintage Public Transport Displays

Spend time perusing the many exhibits that include bus company uniforms, ticket machines from a pre-digital age, model collections, old signage and other items from days gone by.

Founded in 1985, the Scottish Vintage Bus Museum has been based at the former Royal Navy stores depot at Lathalmond since 1995. The 45 acre site includes an internal road system, exhibition hall, workshops and storage sheds. It is also home to the Shed47 Railway Restoration Group. The SVBM is run on a purely voluntary basis and new members are always welcome - see over for details.

Cafe

Take a seat and enjoy a refreshment break. Choose from a selection of drinks, sandwiches, biscuits and cakes.

Shop

Pick up a souvenir or add to your model collection from a range of items available to purchase from our shop.

Bus Rides

The entrance fee includes a tour of the site on a preserved bus with commentary from one of our informative volunteers. Hop on and enjoy the ride!

Workshops

If we are able, our tours will take in some of the workshops to let visitors see the effort required to restore and maintain the collection.

Special Events

Throughout the year the Museum is host to various transport-related events. More details overleaf and at www.svbm.org.uk

LATHALMOND RAILWAY MUSEUM

SHED47 RAILWAY RESTORATION GROUP

Based in the original locomotive shed at Lathalmond, Shed47 Railway Restoration Group is actively recreating some of the vast internal railway network that existed on the site until 1971.

A selection of preserved industrial locos and rolling stock are kept here, and brake van rides take place at various events through the year. There's also the shop, railway museum and you can also ride on our ever-expanding miniature railway.

Visit our website for opening times and train ride prices.
